Cookie Policy

Version 1.0 · March 2026

1. What Are Cookies

Cookies are small text files placed on your device by websites you visit. They are used to make websites work efficiently and to provide information to website operators.

2. How Transceve Uses Cookies

The Transceve platform uses only strictly necessary cookies. We do not use advertising, tracking, or analytics cookies.

Cookie	Purpose	Duration	Type
transceve_auth	Maintains your authenticated session	Session / 8 hours	Strictly necessary
transceve_refresh	Allows silent token refresh to keep you logged in	7 days	Strictly necessary
transceve_pref	Stores basic UI preferences (theme, dismissed notices)	1 year	Strictly necessary

3. Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for the Transceve platform to function. Without them, you would not be able to log in or use the service. Because they are strictly necessary, they do not require your consent under the Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations (PECR).

4. No Third-Party Cookies

We do not use any third-party cookies. No data is shared with advertisers, analytics providers, or social media platforms through cookies.

5. Managing Cookies

You can control cookies through your browser settings. However, disabling essential cookies will prevent you from using the Transceve platform. Instructions for managing cookies in common browsers:

- Chrome: Settings > Privacy and security > Cookies and other site data
- Firefox: Settings > Privacy & Security > Cookies and Site Data
- Safari: Preferences > Privacy > Manage Website Data

- Edge: Settings > Cookies and site permissions

6. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Cookie Policy from time to time. We will notify you of any material changes. The current version is always available at transceve.org/cookies.

7. Contact
